Show Us How You Celebrate July is Large Print Month

July is a loud, enthusiastic month of celebration. Heck, the fireworks industry lives and dies by activity at this time of year. In addition to celebrating our nation's birthday, this year, you can celebrate another cause for joy: Large Print books! Because July is Large Print Month.

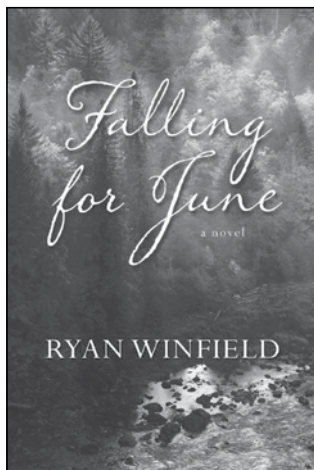

Large Print deserves some special attention. Books "open doors" for readers and support life-long learning and also bring untold enjoyment. Large Print books keep the joy of reading alive for a broad cross-section of readers who find that reading smaller type is damping their desire or ability to read.

Plan now to observe Large Print Month with displays and activities in your library to promote your Large Print collection to patrons. Share your creativity with us — we'll showcase your library's displays, promotions, contests, social media campaigns, and other ideas throughout the month. Also when you share with us we'll enter you into a drawing for free product. Look for details coming soon.

Over the month of July also be on the lookout for emails from us on best practices to develop and promote your Large Print collection. In addition we'll also have special offers in these emails as a thank you for helping us celebrate Large Print month.

We can't wait to see what inspiring and imaginative schemes our public library friends come up with!
