Your source for the most bestsellers and bestselling authors in Large Print.

Help Your Readers Discover Rising Stars

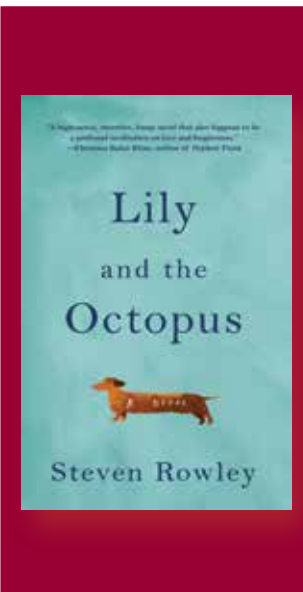

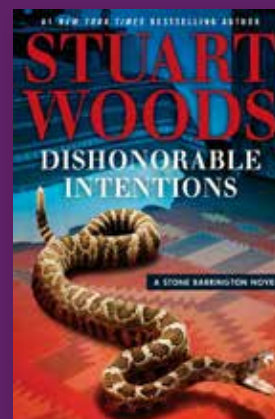

Every great author started somewhere — by taking the first step and writing a first work. Today, the literary world is bursting with new talent. And Thorndike Press can help you bring promising new authors to your power readers.

Take for instance All the Light We Cannot See, Gone Girl and The Girl on the Train. These titles started out as strong mid-list titles that suddenly became all the rage.

We love to give insider tips on upcoming hot titles, like the one featured within this catalog Lily and the Octopus by Steven Rowley or The Curious Charms of Arthur Pepper by Phaedra Patrick releasing in May. Look for the SML icon in each catalog. SML titles offer a mix of must-haves, buzz books, and popular, up-and-coming debut authors.

If you have suggestions for new authors not yet on our radar, please let us know. We're always interested in learning about the next Sue Grafton, Charlaine Harris, or Stephen King or . . .

LILY AND THE OCTOPUS

Steven Rowley

"... an exceedingly authentic, keenly insightful, and heartbreakingly poignant tribute to the purity of love between a pet and its human." — starred, Booklist

"In his funny, ardent, and staunchly kooky way, Rowley expresses exactly what it's like to love a dog. In his funny, ardent, and staunchly kooky way, Rowley expresses exactly what it's like to love a dog." — Kirkus Reviews

This is a story about that special someone: the one you trust, the one you can't live without. For Ted Flask, that someone special is his aging companion Lily, who happens to be a dog. Lily and the Octopus reminds us how it feels to love fiercely, how difficult it can be to let go, and how the fight for those we love is the greatest fight of all.

THANKS TO THIS QUARTER'S PEER PICKS SELECTOR . . . Debbie Lease

Through creative displays showcasing books that relate to current events or focusing on seasonal topics, we are constantly tempting our patrons to browse our collection.

Debbie Lease is the head of collection development/acquisitions for adult fiction at the Hillsdale Public Library in New Jersey where she also serves as the head of circulation. This includes purchasing all the regular and large print fiction as well as audio books. She has had a love of books her entire life and has been working as a library assistant for more than twenty years. This included working part-time in three different libraries in Bergen County until she began a full-time position in Hillsdale a little over ten years ago. While at the Hillsdale Library, she has also served as a member of the Policies and Procedures Committee of the Bergen County Cooperative Library System, which encompasses seventy-seven libraries. Debbie has successfully built a large print collection from the ground up which is now housed in its own separate room at the Hillsdale Library. One of her biggest joys is helping people discover new authors while helping with reader's advisory.

Books as the Brand for the 21st Century Library

Today, libraries are developing into more of a community center where patrons visit for a variety of reasons. Whether the focus du jour is computers, lectures, crafts, programs, media, etc., books are still the main focus for information gathering and entertainment. Through creative displays showcasing books that relate to current events or focusing on seasonal topics, we are constantly tempting our patrons to browse our collection. Our display tables, which are positioned as the first thing our patrons see as they enter the library, have included books with green covers for St. Patrick's Day, gray covers for our cheeky alternative to 50 Shades of Grey, gardening and baseball themes and our political alternative table that includes a number of novels and DVDs about fictional Presidents. New themes and creative signs encourage a different display of books for patrons to explore.

SOMEWHERE OUT THERE

Amy Hatvany

“Gripping and emotionally honest.”

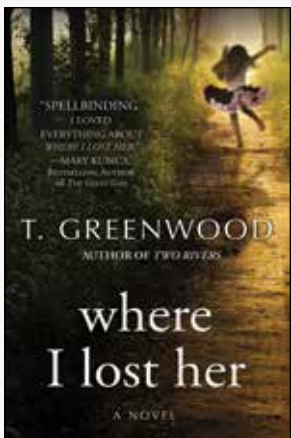

— Stephanie Evanovich,
New York Times Bestselling Author

What happens when two sisters who were torn apart when their young mother abandoned them — and grew up in tragically different circumstances — reunite thirty-five years later to find her? For readers who love Jodi Picoult, acclaimed author Amy Hatvany fearlessly explores complex family issues in her gripping, provocative new novel.

978-1-4104-9038-4 ■ $31.99 U.S.

Women’s Fiction ■ Releases 6/22/2016

Debbie says: This is an emotional story dealing with loss, heartbreak and adoption and handled extremely well in the very capable hands of the author. Told from each of the points of view of the three main characters, we view the scars that life has left on this family and see the healing that is needed to reconcile the past and enable them to move forward. The compassionate writing by this author makes it a truly fulfilling novel.

WHERE I LOST HER

T. Greenwood

“Showcasing the power of friendship and of hope, this mysterious, suspenseful exploration of the human psyche will keep readers turning pages and losing sleep.”

— Publishers Weekly

T. Greenwood’s new page-turner follows a woman’s journey through heartbreak and loss to courage and resolve as she searches for the truth about a missing child. Where I Lost Her blends lyrical prose with a superbly crafted and suspenseful narrative in a gripping, haunting novel.

978-1-4104-9039-1 ■ $30.99 U.S.

Mystery/Thriller ■ Releases 6/22/2016

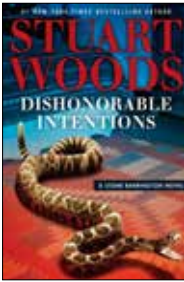

Debbie says: T. Greenwood is a favorite author of mine with her totally relatable characters and believable plot lines. This is a psychological suspense novel at its finest with a mystery at its heart. There are many layers to Tess, the main character, and as the novel proceeds and more of the back stories are revealed, the reader is left anxiously flipping pages to determine whether she is a believable witness or not.

Rebecca's Selections

Stories for women about women. Their relationships with family and friends, about how they overcome obstacles in their lives and discover the value of loving themselves. Selections consist of clean, wholesome reads and contain no graphic sex or violence. These titles are selected by Booklist editor Rebecca Vnuk, an expert in the Women's Fiction genre and former librarian.

Rebecca's thoughts . . .

In this charming return to Cornwall, Polly, her boyfriend, Huckle, and their adorable puffin, Neil, continue to deal with what life throws them as they work in the quirky bakery. Readers who enjoy Jill Mansell and Jane Green will be pleased by this sweet and funny follow-up to Colgan's Little Beach Street Bakery.

Rebecca's thoughts . . .

In this timely, moving novel, Cohen weaves a story of friendship, love, and betrayal, giving voice to two different yet equally effective women. Perfect for readers who enjoy issue-driven fiction and fans of authors such as Jodi Picoult and Luanne Rice.

DEAR THING

Julie Cohen

"Cohen is a master at bringing to life the intricate details of love, hope, and sacrifice. Her prose is vivid and sensual, and her characters take on lives of their own in full dimension. A gripping work of women's fiction with a satisfying emotional punch."

— Kirkus Reviews

After years of watching best friends Ben and Claire try for a baby, Romily offered to give them the one thing that they want most. Now there are three friends, two mothers and only one baby, and an impossible decision to make. Dear Thing is a book you won't be able to put down until you pass it on to your best friends.

COME RAIN OR COME SHINE

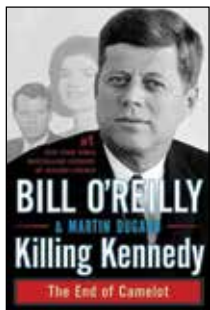

A Mitford Novel

Jan Karon

Over the course of ten Mitford novels, fans have kept a special place in their hearts for Dooley Kavanagh, once a barefoot, freckle-faced boy in filthy overalls. Now Father Tim Kavanagh's adopted son has opened his own vet clinic, and he and Lace Harper are planning a simple wedding. It's a June day in the mountains, with more than a few creatures great and small, and you're invited.

KILLING KENNEDY THE END OF CAMELOT

Bill O'Reilly and Martin Dugard

The authors of the mega-bestselling page-turning nonfiction book Killing Lincoln now recount in gripping detail the brutal murder of John F. Kennedy — and how a sequence of gunshots on a Dallas afternoon not only killed a beloved president but also sent the nation into the cataclysmic division of the Vietnam War and its culture-changing aftermath. Killing Kennedy chronicles both the heroism and deceit of Camelot, bringing history to life.

PIRANHA

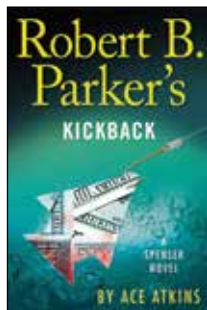

A Novel of the Oregon Files

Clive Cussler
and Boyd Morrison

In 1902, Mt. Pelée erupts on the island of Martinique, wiping out an entire city and sinking a ship carrying a German scientist on the verge of an astonishing breakthrough. More than a century later during a covert operation, Juan Cabrillo and his crew meticulously fake the sinking of the Oregon. When an unknown adversary tracks them down, they discover that a traitorous American weapons designer has completed the German scientist's work.

ROBERT B. PARKER'S KICKBACK

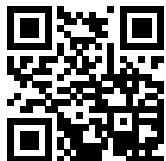

A Spenser Novel

Ace Atkins

Seventeen-year-old Dillon Yates never dreamed that setting up a prank Twitter account for his vice principal could land him in a lockdown juvenile facility. But this is Blackburn, Massachusetts, where zero tolerance for minors is a way of life. Leading the movement is Judge Joe Scali, who gives speeches about getting tough on today's wild youth. But Dillon's mother isn't buying Scali's line. She hires P.I. Spenser to find the truth behind the draconian sentencing.
